

How can we arrive at a classification of characters which may be a guide to us in our ~~des~~ researches into the truth? We shall attempt - no matter how - to get at something at the last.

Let us first consider what things our classification must concern. First let us ~~cons~~ decide whether it be necessary - primarily - to make intelligence a part of our classification.

In the first place, we ~~have~~ must remember that we are treating of criminal types. In the second, we must decide whether it be necessary - primarily - to make intelligence a part of our classification. In the third, we are called upon to make a classification that shall thoroughly cover all the particularities of this crime.
